Dear Casting Team,

I'm writing to apply for an extra role in Who Dunnit'. With a background in independent film, I'm comfortable on set and keen to contribute as a background performer.

My previous acting experience has taught me to follow direction carefully, stay attentive between takes and maintain consistency across scenes. I understand the importance of punctuality, patience and professionalism during long filming days.

I'm based in Los Angeles and available for filming throughout the summer, with flexibility for early starts and schedule changes. I'm happy to provide recent photographs, measurements and any other information you require.

Thank you for considering my application. I'd welcome the opportunity to be part of your production.

Your sincerely,

Jordan Lee
