

Agriculture Future of America (AFA) Animal Institute is held annually to promote understanding of the Animal Health Corridor and animal-related career opportunities. Approximately 90 students are selected each year for this three-day event where industry leaders are connected with future talent.

STUDENTS GAIN:

- Greater understanding of animal health and science providers and careers
- Insight on issues, hot topics, trends and opportunities facing animal agriculture
- Exposure to the culture and environment of participating organizations
- Relationships with student peers and industry professionals that aid in internship and work experiences
- Skills and preparation for a career in the agriculture and food industry

TOP REPRESENTED MAJORS

SCHEDULE AT A GLANCE

Sunday, April 23

Kickoff Speaker: State of the Animal Industry
Executive Panel Discussion: State of the Animal Industry
Industry Networking
Industry Dinner
Student Networking

Monday, April 24

Animal Industry Tours
Tour Debrief and Reflection

Tuesday, April 25

Partner Breakfast
Careers in the Animal Industry Roundtables
Companion Animal, Animal Health, and Animal Agriculture Table Topics
Final Reflection

Special thanks to our Leader Partners — Cargill and Merck Animal Health — and Program Partners for providing support for AFA Animal Institute.

AFA programs are built through key partnerships with organizations, individuals, universities, communities and foundations. All contribute to the success of the AFA leader development programs and services. A complete list of partners can be found at agfuture.org/partners.

LEADER PARTNERS

PROGRAM PARTNERS

