PDP Pedals

PDP is all about innovation. Case in point, the revolutionary B.O.A. Pedal System. So what's behind this ground-breaking technology? B.O.A. stands for Bow Oriented Action, and the secret is its patented Flex-Tech footboard. It's made from a virtually indestructible, yet flexible material that eliminates the need for traditional springs and hinges. The unique footboard acts as the spring, and the result is a pedal with fewer moving parts and ultra-silent action.

The best part is, B.O.A.s are completely adjustable. Simply tweak the tension throw to your liking and feel the difference that a direct drive pedal can make. The hi-hat includes a direct-pull, springless linkage for quick and smooth playability and the double pedal features a newly-engineered, low-tolerance universal joint to perfectly track every stroke.

Pacific racks are designed with the working drummer in mind. Heavy-duty chrome-plated steel tubing and a multitude of available reinforced clamps and accessories mean that PDP Racks are built to last and can be tweaked to accommodate just about any set-up imaginable. Sure, we engineered PDP Rack Systems to be strong and modular, but the innovation didn't stop there. Features like a nameplate with built-in level, soft-grip rubber feet with integrated spikes and included TechLock® locking screws make PDP racks a drummer's best friend. Best of all, PDP V-clamps work with various-sized tubing, so you can pair them up with Pacific hardware, or just about any other manufacturer's tom arms, cymbal arms or accessories.
