

Comics combine images and words and invite us to move through time along with the panels on the page. They can show what is hard to explain, capturing both what was said and what was felt.

This activity has been inspired by conversations with a group of visitors from Maggie's Dundee. They told us about how the architecture, landscaping and interiors of the centre have helped them navigate life with cancer.

What are your experiences of healthcare spaces? How does your environment change how you feel?

Only share what feels safe and right for you.

NOTES + SKETCHES

With thanks to Maggie's Dundee
For cancer support and information visit www.maggies.org

ARTWORK BY ERIN MCGRATH

THIS BOOKLET	IS AN INVITATION
TO WRITE OR DRAW YOUR OWN STORIES	USING THE BLANK PANELS TO REFLECT
ON YOUR EXPERIENCES	OF HEALTHCARE
ARCHITECTURE	AND MOMENTS OF CARE

You are welcome to take your story home or leave for others to read. Only share what feels safe and right for you.