EUREKA

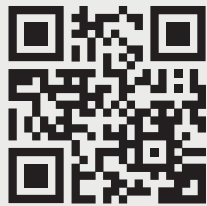

Eureka showcases design-led innovation from leading research centres, spotlighting the ground-breaking creative thinking taking place inside university research departments and governments today.

Sessions

Get involved with our public forum for creative exchange and experience a dynamic programme of talks, tours, workshops, screenings, roundtables and performances. The Sessions bring together exhibitor led-activities from designers and curators participating in the Biennale.

Have Your Say

Public Medal Award Evening
Friday 27 June
5pm - THE HERDS
7pm - Award ceremony
Until 9pm - Late exhibition opening (last entry 8pm)

The Public Medal will be awarded to the pavilion with the most votes from you, our audience. Join us from 5pm for an evening kicking off with THE HERDS, a group of life-size puppet animals, created by The Walk Productions, on their first of three days stampede across the city, raising awareness of climate change and its effect on animals.

Enjoy an evening of food, drinks and performance in the iconic Edmund J. Safra Courtyard, including the Hampton University Choir.

Design and the Invisible

10-12 June, King's College London
Free admission, booking required

How can we dismantle outdated systems and forge radical new ones? Join Samuel Ross, Mariana Mazzucato, Kengo Kuma and dozens more of the world's most exciting designers and thinkers to rethink the hidden powers shaping our world.

Beneath every object, building and space lies an entangled network of invisible forces—financial flows, digital networks, contested borders and unspoken cultural codes that shape our lives and govern the world. A series of talks by leading designers, architects, economists, activists and technologists—drawn from the Biennale and beyond challenges assumptions, amplifies overlooked ideas and envisages a future where design's transformative power is freed from invisible constraints. Edition supported by Digital Media Partner STIR.

10 June: OUTER FORCES
Confronting material realities and changing societies.

11 June: POWER LINES
Unpicking the complex infrastructure that underpins the world.

12 June: INNER SELVES
Unveiling the personal instincts and experiences that drive design.
