Cross-Border Data Transfer

We may transfer your personal information outside of the EU. Some of these recipients may be located in countries in respect of which either the European Commission has issued adequacy decisions, in which case, the recipient's country is recognized as providing an adequate level of data protection under European data protection laws and the transfer is therefore permitted under Article 45 of the GDPR.

Some recipients of your personal data may be located in countries outside the EU for which the European Commission has not issued adequacy decisions in respect of the level of data protection in such countries ("Restricted Countries"). Where we transfer your personal information to a recipient in a Restricted Country, we will either:

- enter into appropriate data transfer agreements based on so-called Standard Contractual Clauses approved from time-to-time under GDPR Art. 46 by the European Commission; or
- rely on other appropriate means permitted by the EU GDPR, which establish that such recipients will provide an adequate level of data protection and that appropriate technical and organizational security measures are in place to protect personal information against accidental or unlawful destruction, loss or alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access, and against all other unlawful forms of processing.

You may ask for a copy of such appropriate data transfer agreements, where applicable, by contacting us using the contact details above.
