Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Junior Web Developer position at Mira, as advertised on LinkedIn. As a recent graduate of the Code Academy Bootcamp, coupled with my background as a project manager, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team and help create engaging digital experiences.

During my time at Code Academy, I developed a strong skill set in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React, alongside a solid understanding of responsive design principles. One of my key projects involved creating a fully responsive portfolio website, where I implemented features such as user authentication and interactive elements. This experience not only sharpened my technical skills but also reinforced the importance of collaboration and effective communication within a team.

In my previous role as a project manager, I successfully led diverse teams on various projects, honing my organisational and leadership abilities. I developed strong time management skills while coordinating project timelines and ensuring deliverables met client expectations. These experiences have equipped me with a unique perspective on project workflows, allowing me to effectively manage tasks and collaborate with developers to achieve project goals.

I am particularly drawn to Mira because of your commitment to pushing the boundaries of technology. I admire your innovative projects and would be eager to contribute my skills and enthusiasm for web development to your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and passion align with the needs of your team. I am available for an interview at your convenience and can be reached at 07700 900 123 or .

Warm regards,
Emma Thompson
