Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Graduate Consultant position at [organisation/company name]. As a recent graduate with strong analytical and research skills, I am eager to begin my career in consulting and contribute to projects that help organisations in solving complex business challenges.

During my studies at [include college or university name], I developed strong problem-solving and analytical skills through research projects and group assignments focused on business strategy and data analysis. One project involved analysing market trends and presenting recommendations for improving operational efficiency in a simulated consulting scenario. This experience strengthened my ability to interpret data, develop structured insights, and present findings clearly.

Alongside my academic work, I have developed teamwork and communication skills through collaborative projects and extracurricular activities such as [give examples]. These experiences have helped me to develop skills such as [include skills from the job description] required to succeed in this role.

I am particularly interested in consulting because it offers the opportunity to work on diverse projects while developing strategic and analytical expertise. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my skills and enthusiasm to your consulting team.

Kind regards, [your name]
