

THE BIG ONE HUNDRED

Something magical has been spotted in Ashdown Forest!

Ashdown Forest is the real life inspiration for the Hundred Acre Wood from A.A Milne's beloved Winnie-the-Pooh books. Now, a new story is coming to the Forest!

Tales of a rather curious creature stretch from Ashdown Forest to Hailsham. Some people say they've seen something tiptoeing through the trees, others have spotted it hopping across the heathland.

No one knows what it looks like, what it likes to do, or where it hides when it's not being watched, all we know is that it is friendly, playful and full of magic, with a story waiting to be written.

We need your help! Have you seen it in the Forest? Can you tell us what it looks like through a drawing or a short piece of writing?

Special Species of Ashdown Forest

Ashdown Forest is full of all sorts of special species of animals that call the forest home.

All we know is that our creature takes characteristics from these special species below. Can you help bring it to life - could it have the ears of a dormouse, the wings of a butterfly, or the tail of an adder? Can you tell us what it likes to do? What would it be called?

Let your imagination run wild!

Silver-Studded
Blue Butterfly

Green Tiger
Beetle

Adder

Dormouse

Dartford Warbler

Submitting your work

Send us your drawings, writing or names for this new creature by emailing your ideas to hello@triggerstuff.co.uk or uploading it to Instagram and tagging us @TriggerStuff along with your name, age and where you're from.

By submitting your work, you give permission for it to be shared on our website: thebigonehundred.co.uk