

Engel & Völkers Italia standard-bearer at the Longines Global Champions Tour in Rome

Rome, October 8, 2026 – Engel & Völkers Italia will be a major participant in Rome on the occasion of the Longines Global Champions Tour, one of the most prestigious international events in the show jumping world, scheduled from October 9 to 11 at the "Gen. C.A. Pietro Giannattasio" Lancieri di Montebello Racecourse.

Three days dedicated to international equestrian sport, bringing riders, guests, and enthusiasts from all over the world to the Capital. Within this setting, Engel & Völkers chooses to participate through a project combining sports, relationships, and lifestyle, aligned with the brand's international positioning.

Engel & Völkers will be the Main Sponsor of two competing riders, one of whom is also an advisor for the network. This connection makes the participation even more authentic and reinforces the brand's closeness to a world built on values such as preparation, determination, elegance, precision, and the pursuit of excellence—principles that belong to equestrian sports and find a natural parallel in Engel & Völkers' approach to premium real estate.

"For us, attending the Longines Global Champions Tour means entering a world with which we share very specific values: the pursuit of excellence, elegance, and the ability to achieve results through preparation and dedication. In this case, the connection is even stronger because one of the riders we support is a direct member of our network. But there is also another fundamental aspect for us: the opportunity to build relationships. We want events like this to become occasions to meet people, clients, and partners, sharing experiences that go beyond our core business," comments Muhannad Al Salhi, CEO of Engel & Völkers Italia.

Its presence at the Longines Global Champions Tour thus serves as a platform for meeting and networking. During the competition days, Engel & Völkers will welcome clients, stakeholders, and guests, building a shared experience around the event alongside Porsche, Rinascente, and Comte de Montaigne—project partners who, through different languages and domains, contribute to creating an ecosystem united by attention to quality, style, and care for the overall experience.

This context also includes the collaboration with Porsche, which will accompany Engel & Völkers in the project through a shared focus on performance, excellence, and experience values.

Rinascente will also be part of the story, bringing its vision of contemporary lifestyle to the project along with its established ability to create experiences and connections among brands, people, and the territory.

"We are delighted to participate in the Longines Global Champions Tour in Rome, an international event that perfectly represents the intersection of sports, lifestyle, and entertainment. For Rinascente, being part of this project means contributing to an experience capable of enhancing the city and its international character, connecting with an audience aligned with the values of excellence, quality, and refinement that have always distinguished us. The collaboration with Engel & Völkers is part of an important journey for Rinascente, aimed at connecting brands, people, and the territory, while creating increasingly relevant experiences for our city and our customers."

Attila Martinelli – Store Director, Rinascente Roma Via del Tritone

Completing the partner network will be Comte de Montaigne, an expression of a world tied to elegance, conviviality, and the quality of shared time—elements that find a natural frame in the setting of the Longines Global Champions Tour.

"Participating in the Longines Global Champions Tour in Rome alongside an exceptional partner like Engel & Völkers means bringing the authentic Bon Vivre of Champagne into a setting of international prestige and great refinement. It is an honor to be the exclusive toast of this event and of the closing evening at Scuderie di Ripolo: our cuvées de Prestige will delight an audience attuned to the values of excellence, quality, and refinement that have always set us apart."

Stéphane Revol, Owner & CEO of Comte de Montaigne Champagne

The project will continue even after the competitions conclude. On October 12, at Scuderie di Ripolo, Engel & Völkers will gather clients, guests, and partners for a closing evening designed to give continuity to the relationships built during the days of the Tour. A networking opportunity that will combine dinner with a horse show and dedicated experiences, transforming event participation into a journey extending beyond the competition arena.

"As Founder of Scuderie di Ripolo, I am pleased to share this experience with Engel & Völkers, a company with which we share a lifestyle vision rooted in excellence, authenticity, and the value of relationships."

Martina Ricci – Founder, Scuderie di Ripolo

Participation in the Longines Global Champions Tour is part of a strategy that sees Engel & Völkers increasingly active in sports, cultural, and lifestyle contexts capable of engaging with the brand's international positioning and creating networking opportunities with communities united by the pursuit of quality and shared interests.
