Plentific uses a fully flexible, tech-enabled approach to both sourcing and managing contractors. Our Supply Chain Solutions team can help connect you with fully vetted local contractors with a proven track record of delivering high quality work, fast. Our platform uses generative AI tools to ensure that works are diagnosed accurately and jobs are priced competitively, meaning you and your residents experience quality service at the right price.

We know procurement can be a challenge, particularly in the current climate. Our teams take away that heavy lifting, introducing you to contractors who are safe and competent to deliver the work you need them to, when you need them to. And it doesn't stop there - we continuously monitor performance, and use data to ensure our solutions evolve with your needs.

"Plentific has been our saviour when it comes to damp and mould. When we approached Plentific about helping us with our backlog, they were able to quickly mobilise a team of contractors to work on the project in a very short space of time."

With Plentific, there's no need to worry about building integrations with contractor platforms - we ensure that they are all integrated directly into the Plentific platform, enabling a two-way flow of communications for work order management and performance tracking.

Use our built-in business intelligence tools to optimise your procurement and delivery, supporting data-driven decision making.
