1.5. In this agreement, the following definitions apply:

- "The General Provisions" will mean the general provisions as adopted by the Netherlands Real Estate Council and as provided for in Article 2;

2. CONDITIONS

2.1. Under this tenancy agreement, the parties must comply with the provisions of the law with respect to letting and renting of residential accommodation, unless this tenancy agreement provides otherwise. The ‘GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR TENANCY OF RESIDENTIAL ACCOMMODATION’, in accordance with the model drawn up by the Netherlands Real Estate Council (ROZ), adopted on 20 March 2017 and filed with the registry of the District Court of The Hague on 12 April 2017 and registered there under number 2017.21, form part of this tenancy agreement. The parties are familiar with these General Provisions. The Tenant has received a copy thereof. The General Provisions are attached as Annex 1.

2.2. The General Provisions referred to in Article 2.1 will apply unless this Tenancy Agreement expressly provides otherwise or where the General Provisions cannot be applied to the Rented Object.

2.3. This agreement is subject to the Framework Agreement between Lento-Intermediary, insofar as any obligations arise from it for the Host.

3. DURATION, EXTENSION AND TERMINATION

3.1. This tenancy agreement is concluded for a period of up to two (2) years or shorter (self-contained accommodation)/up to five (5) years or shorter (non-self-contained accommodation), starting on {{ params.start_date }} and running until {{ params.end_date }}.

3.2. The Host will make the Rented Object available to the Tenant on the commencement date of the tenancy agreement, provided that the Tenant has met all obligations towards the Host existing at that time. If the commencement date does not fall on a working day, the Rented Object will be made available on the next working day.

3.3. The Host will not be able to terminate this tenancy agreement early by giving notice during the period specified in Article 3.1.

3.4. The tenancy agreement will end upon expiry of the period referred to in Article 3.1, if the period referred to in Article 3.1 is shorter than or equal to [two (2) years in case of self-contained accommodation/five (5) years in case of non-self-contained accommodation] and the Host notifies the Tenant of the date on which the tenancy agreement will end and does so in good time and in accordance with Article 18.2 of the General Provisions. If the Host does not notify the Tenant in good time or fails to do so at all and the period referred to in Article 3.1 expires, the tenancy agreement will remain in effect for an indefinite period of time. In this situation, termination of the tenancy agreement by giving notice will take place in accordance with Article 18.1 of the General Provisions.

4. RENT AND PAYMENT OBLIGATIONS

4.1. With effect from the commencement date, the Tenant must pay the following amounts:

- the rent;
- the payment due for the other items and services provided in connection with occupation of the Rented Object (service charges).

4.2. The Host will determine the payment due for the other items and services provided in connection with occupation of the Rented Object, as specified in Article 7.

4.3. A system of advance payments with subsequent settlement will apply to the payment referred to in Articles 4.1 and 4.2, as indicated in Articles 17.1 to 17.15 of the General Provisions.

4.4. The rent and the other costs referred to in Article 4.1 will be payable in advance. {% if params.booking_code.payment_type == "deduct_from_pay" %} The payment will be deducted by the Host from the wage to be paid to the Tenant. If and insofar as this is not possible under mandatory law, payment will be made via a payment method to be selected by the Host. {% else %} Payment shall be made according to a method of payment to be chosen by the Host. {% endif %}

4.5. The payment period is: {{ params.rental_price_term }}. On the commencement date, the following amounts will be payable for each payment period:

- Rent €{{ params.pricing.rental_price }}
- The advance on the payment due for the other items and services provided in connection with occupation of the Rented Object € {{ params.pricing.service_costs }}
- Total payment to be made by the Tenant every payment period € {{ params.pricing.total_costs }} in words: {{ params.pricing.total_costs_word }} euro.

4.6. With a view to the effective date included in Article 3.1, the Tenant's first payment relates to the first rental period and the tenant will pay the amount referred to in Article 4.5 before or on the effective date referred to in Article 3.1.

{% if params.booking_code.discount_period != 0 %}

4.7. For the first {{ params.booking_code.discount_period }} installments, there is a {{ params.booking_code.discount_percentage }} percent discount on the installment amount.

{% endif %}

5.1. On the Host's proposal, the rent may be adjusted - for the first time on 1 July and then annually - by a percentage that may not exceed the percentage allowed by law on the start date of that adjustment for residential accommodation with controlled rent, failing which the rent will be adjusted in accordance with Article 16 of the General Provisions. In addition to the percentage referred to in the previous sentence, the rent may be adjusted on the Host's proposal by a percentage that may not exceed the percentage allowed by law on the start date of that adjustment for the income-related rent increase, if the Rented Object is self-contained accommodation with controlled rent. The parties declare that the provisions of Section 252a of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code will apply by analogy, insofar as required, and the Tenant gives consent, insofar as required, for requesting a statement as referred to in Section 252a(3) of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code.

- Property tax and water board or polder charges;
- Environmental levies, including surface water pollution levy and waste water purification levy;
- Betterment levies, or related taxes or levies, in full or a proportionate part thereof, if and insofar as the Tenant has benefited from that which forms the basis of the assessment or levy;
- Other existing or future taxes, environmental protection contributions, charges, levies and fees.
- Such taxes and other levies will only be passed on to the extent they relate to the actual use of the Rented Object and the actual shared use of service, general and common areas.

8.2. If the levies, taxes, fees or other occupancy-related costs for the Tenant's account are collected from the Host, these must be paid by the Tenant to the Host at the latter's first request.

9. Manager

9.1. Unless otherwise notified by the Host, the Host will act as manager.

9.2. Unless agreed otherwise in writing, the Tenant must contact the Host when it comes to matters concerning the content of this tenancy agreement. Notice of termination must always be sent to the Host.

10.2. If, at the end of the tenancy agreement, the deposit has not been used, or has not been used in full, for: overdue rent, service charges, damage to the rental home which is for the Tenant's account or energy performance fees, the remainder shall be refunded by the Host to the Tenant no later than fourteen days after the end of the lease. In case of set-off against the aforementioned items, set-off shall take place within 30 days after the end of the lease, provided with a written specification.

10.3. No interest is paid on the deposit.

11. Subletting

11.1. Subletting is expressly not allowed.

13.3. If the Tenant has the joint use of common halls, corridors or other external spaces/grounds, the Tenant undertakes to strictly comply with the instructions to be given by the Host in respect of the management, maintenance and joint use of these spaces, which instructions are not included in this tenancy agreement as such. The Tenant may not place any waste, bicycles, mopeds or other items in these spaces.

13.4. The Tenant or any persons who are in the Rented Object on the Tenant's behalf are prohibited from smoking in the Rented Object. 13.5. The Tenant may not keep any animals in the Rented Object without the written consent of the Host.

The Tenant has the right to inspect his/her personal data, as stipulated in the Personal Data Protection Act.

Reporting point

Every municipality must have a reporting point for complaints about landlords. Tenants (including migrant workers), home seekers, local residents and others can contact this reporting point with signals and complaints about undesirable behavior by landlords. On '<https://lento.eu/en/rental-reporting-centre>' you will find an overview of all municipalities that now have a reporting point. There is a link to the municipal website with information about the reporting point and how you can make a report.

Annex 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR TENANCY OF RESIDENTIAL ACCOMMODATION

Model adopted by the Netherlands Real Estate Council (ROZ) on 20 March 2017 and filed with the registry of the District Court of The Hague on 12 April 2017 and registered there under number 2017.21. The ROZ rejects any liability for adverse consequences arising from the use of the text of this model.

Use

1.1 Throughout the term of the tenancy agreement, the tenant will actually, fully, continuously, properly and privately use the rented object exclusively in accordance with the designated use indicated in the tenancy agreement, which means, inter alia, that the tenant cannot use the rented object for business activities (also including activities as referred to in articles 2.1 and 14.3, paragraph c). The tenant will be required to disgorge any (estimated) profit generated by him as a result of acts in violation of this prohibition, without prejudice to the Host's right to claim (additional) compensation.

1.2 The tenant will observe any limited rights, qualitative obligations and the requirements set or to be set by the government, the fire service and utility companies in respect of the rented object. Utility companies will be understood to include similar companies engaging in the supply, the transport and the measuring of the consumption of energy, water, and suchlike. Unless, upon commencement of the tenancy agreement, the residential accommodation is let semi-furnished or furnished, the tenant is to furnish the rented object upon commencement of the tenancy agreement. The tenant will keep the rented object sufficiently (semi-)furnished.

1.3 The tenant is to act in accordance with the oral or written instructions to be given by or on behalf of the Host in the interest of proper use of the rented object and of the areas, systems and facilities pertaining to the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part.

1.4 The tenant will have the right and the obligation to use such common facilities and services as are, or will be, available in the interest of the proper performance of the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part.

1.5 The Host may deny the tenant access to the rented object if, at the time that the tenant wishes to occupy the rented object, the tenant has not, or not yet, performed his obligations under the tenancy agreement. This will not affect the effective date of the tenancy agreement or the obligations ensuing from it.

1.6 The tenant may not use the storage areas, garages, etc., as living space, as storage other than for his own private, non-commercial purposes, as workshop or as retail space, or otherwise perform, or allow third parties to perform, sales activities in or near such areas.

Subletting

2.1 Without the prior written consent of the Host, the tenant will not be authorised to let, sublet, or grant the use of all or part of the rented object to third parties, which includes letting rooms, providing board and lodging, permanently or temporarily granting use (for example through AirBnB or a similar organisation) or relinquishing tenancy. Any consent given by or on behalf of the Host will be once only and will not apply to any other or subsequent situations.

2.2 If the Host has reason to assume that the tenant has granted the use, or has sublet, all or part of the rented object without the consent of the Host as referred to in article 2.1, the tenant will be required to cooperate in an investigation to that effect by the Host. On request, the tenant will be required, inter alia, to provide the personal details of the user(s) or subtenant(s).

Condition of the rented object upon commencement of the tenancy agreement

3.1 Upon commencement of the tenancy agreement, the rented object will be, or is, delivered to the tenant, and accepted by the tenant, in good condition, free of defects. This is the condition that will allow the rented object to provide the tenant with the enjoyment that the tenant may expect upon commencement of the tenancy agreement of a well-maintained object of the type to which the tenancy agreement relates.

3.2 The general, the structural, and the technical condition of the rented object in which the tenant accepts the rented object upon commencement of the tenancy agreement will be recorded by the tenant and the Host in a delivery report to be added as an annex to the tenancy agreement and to be signed by or on behalf of the parties. Such delivery report will form part of the tenancy agreement.

3.3 Any defect that may exist upon commencement of the tenancy agreement will be stated in the delivery report. Any such defect will be corrected by the Host within a reasonable term. If the Host fails to do so, the Host will not be in default until after having been given notice of default by the tenant.

Changes and additions made by the tenant

4.1 Without the prior written consent of the Host, the tenant may not make, cause, or have any changes or additions in, on or to the rented object, or its fitting-out or appearance. The foregoing will not apply to any changes or additions that can be undone upon termination of the tenancy agreement without any substantial costs.

4.2 Without the prior written consent of the Host, the tenant may not make, cause, or have any changes or additions on or to the exterior of the rented object, including the land, the balcony, the common areas, and the garden (except for purposes of fitting-out as a decorative garden).

4.3 Upon termination of the tenancy agreement, any changes or additions will be undone by the tenant, unless the tenant has obtained written consent from the Host to leave such changes or additions behind.

4.4 Unless agreed otherwise in writing between the parties, the Host will not grant its consent to any changes or additions that the tenant may wish to make if:

- that would impair the letting potential of the rented object;
- the change would lead to a decrease in value of the rented object;
- such changes or additions are not necessary for effective use of the rented object;
- such changes or additions will not increase the enjoyment of the rented object;
- making such changes or additions will demonstrably impair the energy index of the rented object;
- serious objections on the part of the Host otherwise oppose the making of such changes or additions.

4.5 Serious objections on the part of the Host will in any event be deemed to exist if the changes or additions:

- do not meet the relevant government requirements and/or requirements of utility companies or if the required permits, if any, have not been obtained;
- are of inadequate technical quality;
- will impair the letting potential of adjacent houses;
- will render proper housing management difficult;
- will or may cause nuisance and/or hindrance to third parties;
- will cause the house no longer to be eligible for allocation to persons seeking a house in the Host's primary target group in respect of the rented object;
- are or may reasonably be damaging to the rented object or to the building of which the rented object forms part;
- will change the nature of the rented object;
- are contrary to the deed(s) of division or the internal regulations relating to the rented object, or of the conditions on which the owner of the rented object has acquired title to the rented object.

4.6 The Host will be authorised to attach requirements for the tenant to its consent, or in relation thereto to impose an obligation on him, in particular in respect of the materials to be used by him and their quality, the constructions to be used, and the working methods to be followed, in particular with a view to the possibility of, and the consequences for, future maintenance and safety. Furthermore, the Host may attach requirements to any consent to be granted in respect of fire, storm and third-party liability insurance, in respect of any taxes and levies and in respect of liability.

4.7 In its consent, the Host will communicate whether or not the changes are to be undone upon termination of the tenancy agreement. In the event that the Host requires any changes or additions to be undone, the Host will be authorised to require a guarantee or other security for performance of the relevant obligation. Changes or additions will not need to be undone only if, upon joint written request by the tenant and the new tenant, the Host still agrees to maintenance of the changes or additions made or taken over by the tenant, in that such changes or additions may be taken over by the new tenant. Subsequently, the new tenant, in turn, will arrange for the relevant changes or additions to be undone upon termination of the tenancy agreement entered into with him, unless such changes or additions can, again, be left behind because of the provisions of the first sentence of this clause.

4.8 The tenant will be required to ensure that, when making the changes or additions, all the relevant requirements set or to be set by the government are met, as well as that all the required permits and authorisations (including authorisations by the municipality and the fire service) are obtained, while the costs of the changes or additions will at all times be payable by the tenant.

4.9 The tenant will be responsible for any maintenance and repair work in respect of the changes and additions made or taken over by him. In no event will any items, changes or additions that the tenant may have taken over from a preceding tenant lead to any liability on the part of the Host. The tenant will indemnify the Host against any third-party claims in respect of damage caused by any changes or additions made or taken over by the tenant.

4.10 Any non-wallpapered walls and ceilings in the rented object may not be wallpapered by the tenant. The tenant may not stick any stickers on paintwork or glue any floor covering directly to the floors or stairs. Any structure applied by the tenant to walls, such as plasterwork, textured paint, textured plaster, putz, and suchlike, must be undone by the tenant upon termination of the tenancy agreement, unless the successive tenant has communicated in writing to the Host that he will take over the structure applied to the walls from the tenant and that he (the successive tenant) will, in turn, arrange removal thereof upon termination of his tenancy agreement.

4.11 Any consent given by the Host will be once only and will not apply to any other or subsequent situations.

4.12 The Host will not be bound by any nomination by the tenant of a successive tenant for the rented object, even if such nominated successive tenant is prepared to take over facilities or changes made in or to the rented object by the tenant.

4.13 Any changes made by the tenant in violation of the Host's conditions must be undone on the Host's demand.

4.14 If any items applied by the tenant are to be temporarily removed in connection with maintenance or repair work on the rented object or on the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part, the costs of removal, storage, if necessary, and reapplying will be at the expense and risk of the tenant, irrespective of whether the Host had granted its consent to the application of the relevant items.

Changes made or facilities installed by the Host

5.1 If and to the extent that any mandatory instructions are given by the government to the Host in respect of changes, adjustments or improvements to the rented object individually, or to the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part, the tenant declares that he will allow such changes to be made in, on, to or near the rented object.

5.2 If the rented object forms part of a building complex comprising multiple houses, and the Host wishes to change, adjust or improve all or part of the building complex of which the rented object forms part, where such work is not mandatorily required by the government, the tenant must give the opportunity to do so, provided that:

- a. at least 70% of the tenants within the building complex, or such part thereof, of which the rented object forms part, have agreed to the proposed change, adjustment or improvement;
- b. for technical, organisational, social and/or financial reasons, the proposed change, adjustment or improvement can be made only on a complex-by-complex, or part-by-part, basis;
- c. the Host has informed the tenant in good time of the proposed change, adjustment or improvement, and has consulted with the tenant or the tenants' organisation.

5.3 If the Host is required, pursuant to article 5.1 or article 5.2, to make certain changes or renovations in or to the rented object, the Host will also be entitled to submit to the tenant a proposal for a rent revision pursuant to section 252 and/or section 255 of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code.

5.4 The Host will not be entitled to submit a proposal for a rent revision to the tenant for any changes or renovations that may qualify as correction of overdue maintenance to attain the maintenance level that suits the original rent.

5.5 In the event of any changes, adjustments or improvements as referred to in articles 5.1 and 5.2, the provisions of article 11.5 will apply.

Lift

6.1 If the building of which the rented object forms part includes a lift, the tenant, his household members, and visitors will carefully comply with all instructions given, or to be given, by or on behalf of the Host, the lift installer or the government.

6.2 The Host will be responsible for entering into a service contract for the lift.

Central heating and water heater

7.1 If a private, individually operated central heating system or a water heater is available in the rented object, the tenant will arrange the preservation thereof as befits a responsible tenant.

7.2 Payable by the tenant, without exception, will be all costs of repair or damage caused by negligence, improper use or inexpert maintenance of the systems referred to in article 7.1 and appurtenances by the tenant himself or by any persons designated by him.

7.3 The tenant will be required, in the event of frost, to take all such measures as may be available to him to avoid freezing of the central heating system, the water heater and the water pipes. In the event of the tenant's absence during the heating season, the tenant will not be permitted - with a view to the risk of freezing of the aforementioned systems - to shut the radiators of the central heating system.

Common or central aerial unit

8.1 If the rented object has been, will be, or may be connected to an existing common or central system for internet and/or reception of television and radio programmes, the tenant will not be permitted to apply or preserve any private system and/or aerials, or to make any changes to the system.

8.2 Only the connection point(s) created in the rented object to the common or central aerial system or internet supply facility may be used to connect equipment. For purposes of such connection(s), the tenant will be required to use proper connection cables to be purchased at his own expense. The tenant will be liable for any damage caused to the system as a result of the use of improperly functioning reception devices or improper connection cables.

Garden, land, boundary partitions, structures

9.1 If the rented object includes a garden or land, the tenant will be required to lay out, use, maintain and preserve the garden as a decorative garden, and not to use the land or the garden for the storage of items of any nature whatsoever, or to park one or more cars, caravans, boats, etc. Any trees and shrubbery, including the trees and shrubbery already present at the time of commencement of the tenancy agreement, must be maintained and pruned in good time by the tenant. Any trees or shrubbery in the garden that cause nuisance are to be removed at the tenant's expense. If a tree-felling permit is required, the tenant is to apply for such permit at his own expense, with the knowledge of the Host. Any damage caused by trees, shrubbery or other plants will be at the expense of the tenant.

9.2 Without the consent of the Host, the tenant may not install, change or remove any boundary partitions, sheds, or wooden or other structures.

9.3 The provisions of articles 4.1 to 4.14 inclusive will apply mutatis mutandis.

Shading devices

10.1 The tenant may not apply any external shading devices, save with the prior approval of the Host in respect of the construction, the colour, and the method of fastening.

10.2 The provisions of articles 4.1 to 4.14 inclusive will apply mutatis mutandis.

Maintenance

11.1 Pursuant to the law (section 217 in conjunction with section 240 of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code) and this tenancy agreement, the tenant will be required to carry out minor repairs on, in or to the rented object, in any event including the minor repairs referred to in the Dutch Minor Repairs (Tenant's Liability) Decree [Besluit kleine herstellingen], and the Host will be required, at the tenant's request, to remedy any other defects, unless this is impossible or would involve expenses that, under the circumstances, the Host cannot be required to incur. To that end, the parties will make, or cause, in a timely and proper fashion - each at their own expense - such facilities, including renovations, as may be necessary and as they are required to make or cause pursuant to the law, any statutory requirement or agreed conditions.

11.2 The provisions of article 11.1 will apply without prejudice to the tenant's obligation in respect of maintenance, repairs and renovation of any facilities made by or on behalf of the tenant himself as referred to in article 4.

11.3 The minor repairs that are at the tenant's expense will be carried out by or on behalf of the Host if such maintenance is included in the supplies and services to be arranged by or on behalf of the Host that are related to the occupation of the rented object as referred to in article 7 of the tenancy agreement.

11.4 The foregoing provisions will apply without prejudice to the obligation on the part of either party to assume responsibility for such facilities as are to be made as a result of wilful misconduct, fault, negligence or improper use on the part of such party itself or of any persons for whom it is responsible.

11.5 If the Host deems it necessary to carry out maintenance, repair, renovation or other work on the rented object or on the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part or on any adjoining premises, or if any such work is necessary in view of any requirements or measures imposed by the government or utility companies, the tenant will allow the persons that are necessary to carry out such work to access the rented object and tolerate such work and any inconvenience it may cause, without any entitlement to claim compensation, reduction of the payment obligation or dissolution of the tenancy agreement. The Host will consult with the tenant in good time as to the timing of carrying out the work.

11.6 If either party fails to carry out, or cause third parties to carry out, maintenance, repair or renovation work at its own expense, or if such work has been carried out improperly or poorly, the other party will be entitled to carry out, or cause third parties to carry out, such work at the expense and risk of the negligent party, after the negligent party has received a written notice of default granting it a reasonable term to perform. If the work to be carried out at the tenant's expense cannot be delayed, the Host will be entitled promptly to carry out, or cause third parties to carry out, such work at the tenant's expense.

Access

12.1 The Host and any and all persons to be designated by the Host will be entitled to access the rented object, after consultation with the tenant and on workdays between 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., to inspect the condition of the rented object for purposes of the work referred to in articles 5 and 11 and for valuation purposes. In emergencies, the Host may also access the rented object without consultation and/or outside the time frames referred to above.

12.2 In the event of a proposed letting, sale or auction of the rented object or of all or part of the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part, and in the last three months prior to termination of the tenancy agreement, the tenant will be required, after prior notice by or on behalf of the Host, to give access to the rented object for viewing purposes between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon, and between 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. on workdays, as well as on the auction days, and he will tolerate the usual 'to let' or 'for sale' signs on or near the rented object (or the building or building complex).

Damage and liability

13.1 If any damage has occurred, or is imminent, in, on or to the rented object, including damage or imminent damage to pipes, cables, tubes, discharges, sewers, systems and equipment, the tenant will be required promptly to notify the Host in writing.

13.2 In the event of immediate damage or damage that has occurred threatens to expand, the tenant will be required to notify the Host without delay and promptly to take appropriate measures to avoid and mitigate any (further) damage in or to the rented object. The foregoing will particularly apply if any damage has occurred, or is imminent, as a result of any weather condition.

13.3 If the rented object forms part of a collective building or housing complex, the provisions of articles 13.1 and 13.2 will also apply to the total building or building complex, more in particular in respect of the common areas and the adjacent premises. Any direct acts on the part of the tenant in these situations will be required only if he can reasonably be expected to perform such acts.

13.4 The Host will not be liable for any damage or lost enjoyment under the tenancy agreement suffered by the tenant and/or his household members or for any damage to property of the tenant and/or his household members as a result of visible or invisible defects in the rented object, unless such damage or lost enjoyment is attributable to the Host or if such damage was caused by a defect that existed at the time of entering into the tenancy agreement and that was, or should have been, known to the Host at such time.

13.5 The Host will not be liable for any damage caused to the person and/or to any property of the tenant or his household members by storm, frost, stroke of lightning, serious snowfall, flooding, rising or falling of the groundwater level, natural disaster, atomic reaction, armed conflict, civil war, uprising, civil commotion, molest or other calamities.

13.6 The tenant will be liable for any damage to the rented object as a result of attributable failure on the part of the tenant to perform any obligation under the tenancy agreement. All damage, except for fire damage, will be deemed to have occurred as a result of such attributable failure. For purposes of this paragraph, the tenant will be deemed to include: the tenant's household members and any third parties that are inside the rented object.

13.7 The tenant will be required to take out - and maintain - adequate household contents insurance on customary terms. In respect of any damage that comes under the scope and cover of an insurance policy taken out by the tenant, the tenant is to address the insurer first.

Protection of the living climate

14.1 If the rented object forms part of a building or building complex which includes rooms and areas to which the tenant does not have any exclusive use rights, the tenant will for his part contribute to avoiding pollution of such rooms and areas, the placing of movable property in, on or to such rooms or areas, and the use of such rooms and areas for any purposes other than for which they were intended, either manifestly or based on the tenancy agreement or the instructions of the Host. In particular, the tenant will not access, or cause third parties to access, the roof, the lift control rooms, the fire-escape ladders, the central heating system area, or the hydrophore room. Furthermore, the tenant may not place any vehicles, prams, bicycles or other objects other than in the designated areas, or beat or hang out bed linen, laundry, etc. on the exterior of the building, other than within the balcony.

14.2 Without the prior consent of the Host, the tenant may not:

- a. apply, or cause the application of, any advertising, in any form whatsoever, for himself or for third parties, to the rented object;
- b. connect, or cause the installation of, a mechanical exhaust hood or other equipment to a ventilation duct;
- c. fit out or use the flues in the rented object for an open fireplace or a multi-fuel heater, unless such use is for the purpose of an open fireplace that forms part of the rented object.

The provisions of articles 4.1 to 4.14 inclusive will apply mutatis mutandis.

14.3 The tenant may not:

- a. keep any pets or other animals in or near the rented object that cause nuisance;
- b. discharge combustion gases other than through the available flues or use venting ducts for such purpose;
- c. grow, or cause the growth of, or trade hemp in the rented object, in the common areas and/or in any parts thereof, or in the direct vicinity of the rented object, and/or fit out the rented object as a hemp farm, hemp drying plant or a hemp harvesting plant, or perform any other activities that are punishable pursuant to the Dutch Opium Act [Opiumwet]. The tenant may not have any hemp or similar plants available, or store or keep such plants for others in the rented object and/or in any common areas either. Furthermore, the tenant may not trade, produce or in a group use, allow the use of, or have available any qat, soft drugs or other controlled substances in the rented object, in the common areas and/or in any parts thereof, or in the direct vicinity of the rented object. The tenant acknowledges that any acts in violation of the foregoing prohibitions will lead to damage to the rented object, as well as to hazardous negligence and nuisance (such as pollution, vandalism, attracting crime, etc.) for the environment. Acting in violation of this prohibition is deemed so serious that it will justify dissolution of the tenancy agreement in the shortest possible term. The tenant will be required to disgorge to the Host any (estimated) profit generated by him as a result of acts in violation of this prohibition, without prejudice to the Host's right to claim (additional) compensation.

14.4 When using the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part, the tenant will not cause any hindrance or nuisance. The tenant will ensure that any third parties or animals present on his behalf will not do so either.

14.5 Articles 14.1 to 14.4 inclusive intend, inter alia, to promote a good living climate among the users of the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part.

14.6 The tenant will act and use and maintain the rented object as befits a responsible tenant.

Environment

15.1 The tenant will strictly comply with the guidelines, regulations or instructions from the government or other competent authorities in respect of (separate) presentation of refuse. In the event of failure, or failure fully, to comply with this obligation, the tenant will be liable for any financial, criminal or other consequences that may ensue from such failure.

15.2 The tenant may not:

- a. have any environmentally hazardous items in, on, to, or in the direct vicinity of, the rented object, including malodorous, fire hazardous or explosive items;
- b. use the rented object in any manner that may cause soil or other environmental pollution.

Rent adjustment

16. If the rented object is self-contained accommodation subject to a decontrolled rent:

- the annual rent adjustment will be based on the change in the monthly price index figure according to the consumer price index (CPI) for all households (series 2015=100), as published by Statistics Netherlands (CBS);
- the adjusted rent will be calculated according to the following formula: the changed rent will be equal to the rent as prevailing on the adjustment date, multiplied by the index figure for the fourth calendar month preceding the calendar month in which the rent is adjusted, divided by the index figure for the sixteenth calendar month preceding the calendar month in which the rent is adjusted;
- the rent will not be adjusted if the adjustment should lead to a rent that is less than the most recently prevailing rent, but in such event that most recently prevailing rent will remain unchanged until, in a subsequent indexation, the index figure for the calendar month being four calendar months preceding the calendar month in which the rent is adjusted, exceeds the index figure based on which the rent was most recently adjusted;
- a comparable index figure will be used to the extent possible, if CBS discontinues the publication of the said price index or the basis for calculation thereof is changed and, in the event of a difference of opinion in that respect, the party taking the initiative may request the Director of CBS to render a decision that will be binding on both parties. Any costs involved will be equally divided between the parties;
- the adjusted rent will apply, even if the tenant is not separately notified of such change.

Costs of mains services based on an individual meter and service charges

17.1 On top of the rent, the tenant will be responsible for the costs of supply, transport, measuring and consumption of gas, water and electricity for the rented object, including the costs of entering into the relevant agreements and the meter rental, as well as any other costs and penalties to be charged by the utility companies.

17.2 The tenant will be responsible, at his own expense and risk, for entering into the supply agreements with the relevant companies, unless the rented object does not have any separate connections and/or the parties have agreed that the Host will be responsible for the supply of gas, water and electricity.

17.3 If the parties have agreed that the Host will be responsible for the supply of gas, water and electricity for the rented object and the living area of the rented object contains an individual meter, the Host will determine the fee due by the tenant in consideration thereof on the basis of the actual costs based on the meter readings. If the supply of heat as referred to in section 1(g) of the Dutch Heating Supply Act [Warmtewet], is governed by the Heating Supply Act, the said fee may in no event exceed the maximum price within the meaning of this Act. In such event, the tenant undertakes, on demand, to sign a supply agreement with the Host as referred to in that Act. If the living area of the rented object does not contain an individual meter, the Host will determine the fee due by the tenant.

17.4 On top of the rent, the tenant will be responsible for the costs of provision of internet, television, audio and other signals, including the costs of entering into the relevant agreements, as well as any other costs and penalties to be charged by the suppliers of such services.

17.5 The tenant will be responsible, at his own expense and risk, for entering into the provision agreements with the relevant companies as referred to in article 17.4, unless the parties have agreed that the Host will be responsible for the provision of internet, television, audio and other signals. In the latter situation, the Host will determine the fee due by the tenant in consideration thereof.

17.6 If the parties have agreed that the Host will (also) be responsible for the provision of (other) supplies and services relating to the occupation of the rented object, the Host will also determine the fee due by the tenant in consideration thereof.

17.7 To the extent that the rented object forms part of a building or building complex and the provision of supplies and services relating to the occupation of the rented object also relates to other parts pertaining thereto, the Host will determine the share in the costs of such provision of supplies and services reasonably payable by the tenant. In that respect, the Host need not consider the fact that the tenant does not use any of such supplies and services provided. If one or more parts of the building complex are not occupied, the Host will ensure, in the determination of the tenant's share, that such share will not exceed the share if the building or building complex were fully occupied.

17.8 The Host will provide the tenant with annual summaries based on which the tenant can independently determine his share in such costs. The statutory prescription period will commence at the end of the year to which the costs relate.

17.9 After termination of the tenancy agreement, a new summary will be prepared for the period for which no summary had been prepared yet. Such summary will be provided after expiry of no more than 6 months following the end of the year to which the costs relate.

17.10 Any amounts underpaid by the tenant or excess amounts received by the Host according to the summary for the relevant period, taking into account advance payments made, will be paid extra or repaid within three months of provision of the summary. Any challenging of the correctness of the summary will not suspend this payment obligation.

17.11 If so desired, the Host will give the tenant access to the books and other business records, or copies thereof, underlying the summary, for a period of one month following provision of the summary.

17.12 The Host will be entitled to change the supply of electricity, gas and water for consumption in the living area of the rented object on the basis of an individual meter in that part and the provision of the other supplies and services relating to the occupation of the rented object, after consultation with the tenant, in terms of type and scope.

17.13 The Host will be entitled, in the course of the period, to adjust the advance on the fee for the supply of electricity, gas and water for consumption in the living area of the rented object on the basis of an individual meter in that part and the fee for the other supplies and services provided in relation to the occupation of the rented object, based on the costs expected by it, inter alia, in a situation as referred to in article 17.12 and, furthermore, in the situations referred to in section 261(1) of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code.

17.14 The tenant will be bound by any reduction or expansion of the supply of electricity, gas and water for consumption in the living area of the rented object on the basis of an individual meter in that part and the provision of the other supplies and services relating to the occupation of the rented object and the associated changed amount of the advance payment, if such change relates to a supply that can be supplied only to a number of tenants jointly and at least 70% of those tenants have agreed. A tenant that has not agreed to the change may claim a court decision as to the reasonableness of the proposal within eight weeks of the written notice from the Host that agreement has been reached with at least 70% of the tenants.

17.15 If the consumption of gas, electricity, heat or (hot) water is determined on the basis of consumption meters, and a dispute should arise as to the tenant's share in the costs of consumption as a result of the non-performance or incorrect performance of such meters, such share will be determined by a company specialising in the measuring and determining of purchased gas, electricity, heat and/or (hot) water consulted by the Host. The foregoing will also apply in the event of damage or destruction of, or fraud with respect to, the meters, without prejudice to any other rights that the Host may in such event have vis-a-vis the tenant, including the right to claim repair or replacement of the meters and compensation of damage suffered.

Notice of termination

18.1 Notice of termination of the tenancy agreement is to be given by bailiff's writ or by registered letter, with effect from a day agreed for payment of the rent (usually the first day of a calendar month), with due observance of a notice period. The period for notice of termination to be given by the tenant will be equal to the duration of a payment period, but not less than one month and not more than three months, and for notice of termination to be given by the Host not less than three months and subject to section 271(5) of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code.

18.2 A tenancy agreement entered into for a limited period of time that is shorter than or equal to two years (in the event of self-contained accommodation), or five years (in the event of non-self-contained accommodation), will not end by notice of termination but by a communication to be issued by registered letter to the effect that the tenancy agreement will end upon expiry of the limited period stated in the tenancy agreement. Such communication is to be issued by the Host not later than one month prior to expiry of the limited period stated in the tenancy agreement and not sooner than three months prior to expiry of such period.

Termination of tenancy agreement or use

19.1 Unless agreed otherwise in writing, upon termination of the tenancy agreement or upon termination of use of the rented object, the tenant will re-deliver the rented object to the Host in the condition as described in the delivery report upon commencement of the tenancy agreement, taking into account any subsequent work performed by the Host and normal wear and tear and ageing.

19.2 If no delivery report was drawn up upon commencement of the tenancy agreement, the tenant will, save evidence to the contrary, be deemed to have received the rented object in the condition it is in upon termination of the tenancy agreement.

19.3 Upon termination of the tenancy agreement or termination of use of the rented object, the tenant is re-deliver the rented object to the Host vacant and cleared, free of use and rights of use, properly cleaned and subject to surrender of all the keys, key cards, etc.

19.4 The tenant will be under the obligation, at his own expense, to remove any and all items affixed by him in, on or to the rented object, or taken over by him from the previous tenant or user, unless at any time the Host indicates, or has indicated, otherwise in writing. Moreover, the tenant will repair any damage caused by the removal of items, re-deliver the non-wallpapered walls and ceilings in the colour white and, if a garden forms part of the rented object, leave the land behind unpolluted and proper (without any holes or potholes). No compensation will be due by the Host for any non-removed items affixed without the consent of the Host, unless agreed otherwise in writing.

19.5 The tenant will forfeit possession of any items that he is deemed to have abandoned by leaving them behind in the rented object when actually vacating the rented object. Any such items may be removed by the Host, at the Host's discretion and without any liability arising on its part, at the expense of the tenant, without any retention obligation being imposed on the Host. The Host will be free to dispose of any such items. It will have the right to appropriate any such items or to remove them at the risk of the tenant, all at the Host's sole discretion. Furthermore, the Host may opt to have the relevant items discharged for immediate destruction or for temporary storage. If the Host has had the relevant items transported and stored, the tenant may obtain possession of such items from the Host only in the period that they are stored against payment in a lump sum of all claims that the Host may have against the tenant. The Host will not be liable for any damage caused to the relevant items during removal, transport or storage.

19.6 The provisions of article 19.5 will not apply to any movable items that the tenant has transferred to the successive tenant, provided that the successive tenant has notified the Host of such transfer in writing.

19.7 The rented object is to be inspected by the parties jointly in good time before termination of the tenancy agreement or use. The parties will draw up a report of such inspection recording the findings in respect of the condition of the rented object. Furthermore, such report will record the work in respect of the repairs proven necessary upon inspection and overdue maintenance for which the tenant is responsible yet to be performed at the expense of the tenant, and the procedure for any such work.

19.8 If, after having been given proper opportunity by registered letter, the tenant or the Host fails to cooperate in the inspection and/or the recording of the findings and arrangements in the report within a reasonable term, the party insisting on recording will be authorised to carry out the inspection outside the presence of the failing party and to adopt the report, which will be binding on the parties. The party insisting on recording will promptly provide the failing party with a copy of such report.

19.9 The tenant will be under the obligation to carry out, or cause third parties to carry out, the work to be carried out based on the report within the term set in the report or otherwise agreed between the parties. If the tenant fails, or fails fully, to perform his obligations ensuing from the report, the Host will be entitled to cause such work to be carried out and to recover the associated costs from the tenant, without any notice of default by or on behalf of the Host to the tenant being required, and without prejudice to the Host's right to claim compensation of the further damage and costs.

19.10 For the period involved in the performance of the work, calculated from the date of termination of the tenancy agreement, an amount will be due by the tenant to the Host equal to the most recently prevailing rent, the fee in connection with the supply of electricity, gas and water for consumption in the living area of the rented object on the basis of an individual meter in that part and the fee for the other supplies and services to be provided in connection with the occupation of the rented object, without prejudice to the Host's right to claim compensation of further damage and costs. The tenant cannot derive any rights from this provision.

Payments

20.1 Payment of the rent and of all such other amounts as may be due pursuant to this tenancy agreement will be made on or before the expiry date, in legal Dutch tender - without any suspension, discount, deduction or set-off against any claim that the tenant has, or asserts, against the Host, save as provided in section 206(3) of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code - by way of deposit or transfer to an account to be designated by the Host.

20.2 The Host will be free to change the place or method of payment by giving written notice to the tenant. The Host will be entitled to determine from which outstanding claim under the tenancy agreement a payment received by it from the tenant will be reduced, unless expressly indicated otherwise by the tenant when making the payment. In the latter event, the provisions of section 50 of Book 6 of the Dutch Civil Code will not apply.

Security deposit

21.1 By way of security deposit for proper performance of his obligations under the tenancy agreement, the tenant will pay a security deposit, equal to the amount stated in article 10 of the tenancy agreement, into a bank account designated by the Host upon signing of the tenancy agreement.

21.2 If the security deposit has been drawn on, the tenant will be required, on the Host's demand, to supplement the security deposit by the amount for which the security deposit was drawn on.

21.3 If and to the extent that the security deposit has not been validly drawn on by the Host, the Host will be under the obligation, upon termination of the tenancy agreement, to repay the security deposit into an account number to be provided by the tenant.

Joint and several liability, joint tenancy, guardianship and administration

22.1 If more than one person has committed as tenants, such persons will at all times be jointly and severally liable to the Host for all the obligations ensuing from the tenancy agreement. Postponement of payment or remission, or an offer to that effect, by the Host to one of the tenants will regard solely that tenant.

22.2 The obligations under the tenancy agreement will be joint and several, including vis-a-vis heirs, beneficiaries and other transferees and assigns of the tenant.

22.3 A person who has entered into, and signed, the tenancy agreement together with one or more others, without any legal joint tenancy, will not lose his status as a tenant by permanently leaving the rented object. Even in such event, he will remain jointly and severally liable for the obligations under the tenancy agreement. A contractual joint tenant (co-tenant) may give notice of termination of the tenancy agreement only together with the other tenant(s).

22.4 When entering into the tenancy agreement, the tenant is to inform the Host as to whether or not he is married or has entered into a registered partnership. The tenant will state the personal details of his partner to the Host. If, after entering into the tenancy agreement, the tenant marries or enters into a registered partnership, he will promptly notify the Host, stating the personal details of the partner.

22.5 When entering into the tenancy agreement, the tenant is to inform the Host as to whether a guardianship or administration order has been imposed on him. The tenant will state the personal details of the guardian or the administrator to the Host. If, after entering into the tenancy agreement, a guardianship or administration order is imposed on the tenant, he will promptly notify the Host, stating the personal details of the guardian or the administrator.

Delayed availability

23.1 The Host will be under the obligation to make the rented object available to the tenant on the effective date as referred to in article 3.1 of the tenancy agreement.

23.2 If the rented object is not available on the envisaged effective date, because the rented object was not completed in time, because the previous tenant has failed to vacate the rented object in good time contrary to arrangements made, or because the Host has not yet obtained the government permits to be arranged by it, no rent, no fee in connection with the supply of electricity, gas and water for consumption in the living area of the rented object on the basis of an individual meter in that part, and no fee for the other supplies and services to be provided in connection with the occupation of the rented object will be due by the tenant until such date as the rented object is made available to him, and his other obligations and the agreed instalments will be postponed accordingly.

23.3 The Host will not be liable for any damage to be suffered by the tenant as a result of the delay, unless such delay is due to attributable failure on the part of the Host. Attributable failure will be understood to include the situation where the Host fails to perform to the best of its ability to make the rented object available to the tenant as soon as possible.

23.4 If the Host is unable to make the rented object available to the tenant within ten workdays of the envisaged effective date, the tenant will be entitled to dissolve the tenancy agreement out of court by registered letter.

Apartment rights

24.1 If the building or building complex of which the rented object forms part is, or will be, divided into apartment rights, the tenant will observe the instructions ensuing from the deed of division, the charter or the regulations. The foregoing will also apply if the building or building complex is, or will be, owned by a cooperative association.

24.2 The Host will, to the best of its ability, avoid cooperation with the creation of any instructions that are contrary to the tenancy agreement.

27.2 The tenant undertakes, in the event that the tenant no longer uses the rented object, promptly to notify the Host, stating his new address for service.

27.3 If the tenant vacates the rented object without notifying the Host of a new address for service, the address of the rented object will be deemed to be the tenant's address for service.

Requests

28. Save in the event granted by the Host on its own initiative, the tenant may rely on any consent, approval, statement or communication on the part of the Host only if the tenant has sent a request to that effect to the Host and the Host has shown his positive reaction thereto in writing. Conditions may be attached to the Host's consent, approval or statement.

Complaints

29. The tenant will submit any complaints or wishes in writing. In urgent cases, complaints or wishes may be submitted orally, followed by written confirmation by the tenant as soon as possible.

Consequences of voidness or voidability
