Privacy Policy Annual General Meeting

We, Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG (hereafter "we" or "Porsche AG"), appreciate your interest in our company and our Annual General Meeting. Your privacy is an important concern for us. We therefore take the protection of your personal data very seriously and treat it in strictest confidence. Your personal data is processed exclusively within the framework of the statutory provisions of data protection law, in particular the General Data Protection Regulation (hereafter "GDPR"). With this privacy policy, we inform you about the processing of your personal data and about your data protection rights in the context of the implementation as well as the preparation and follow-up of our Annual General Meeting.

1. Person responsible for data processing and data protection officer; contact

The person responsible for data processing within the meaning of the data protection laws is:

Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG
Porscheplatz 1
70435 Stuttgart
Germany
Tel: (+49) 0711 911-0

2. Subject of data protection

The subject of data protection is the protection of personal data. This is any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (so-called data subject). This includes, for example, information such as name, postal address, e-mail address or telephone number as well as other information that necessarily originates within the scope of the Annual General Meeting.

3. Purposes and legal bases of data processing

The following provides you with an overview of the purposes and legal basis for data processing in connection with the implementation, preparation and follow-up of our Annual General Meeting.

We process the following data to enable shareholders and their representatives to attend the Annual General Meeting and exercise their rights under the German Stock Corporation Act and the Articles of Association of Porsche AG

- Salutation, name, first name
- Custodian bank
- Contact details (e.g. address, e-mail address, telephone number)
- share-related data (e.g. number of shares, class of shares, type of ownership of shares, voting rights)
- data relating to the main meeting (e.g. number of admission ticket, exercise of voting rights and other rights)

In this context, the processing is carried out in particular

- to verify the entitlement to participate in the Annual General Meeting
- for sending tickets
- for voting according to the agenda
- for the preparation of the list of participants
- for recording powers of attorney and instructions and their revocation
- to enable the exercise of further shareholder rights (e.g. right to information, right to speak and right to object)

The processing of your personal data is necessary to fulfill our legal obligations (in particular pursuant to sections 67c (3), 118, 123 (2), 129 (1) sentence 2, 130 (6) of the German Stock Corporation Act). A prerequisite for participation in the Annual General Meeting is proper registration in accordance with the German Stock Corporation Act. Therefore, proper registration requires the processing of personal data. The legal basis for processing is accordingly Article 6 (1) (c) GDPR.

We also process the data to comply with securities trading regulations of non-European countries. If you contact us as a shareholder or representative, we also process the personal data provided in the context of the inquiry which is necessary to respond to the request. Where appropriate, we also process information on motions, questions, election proposals and requests from shareholders or representatives at the Annual General Meeting. This data processing is necessary to protect our legitimate interest in the smooth and orderly conduct of the Annual General Meeting. The legal basis is Article 6 (1) (f) GDPR.

We store the aforementioned data in accordance with legal obligations, e.g. due to regulatory requirements as well as stock corporation, commercial and tax law retention obligations. For example, after the end of the Annual General Meeting, we are legally obligated

- to document proxy statements for proxies in a verifiable manner and to keep them protected from access for three years (Section 134 (3) sentence 5 of the German Stock Corporation Act)
- to keep a voting confirmation for each person voting for four weeks (Section 129 (5) of the German Stock Corporation Act)
- to keep a list of participants for two years (Section 129 (4) of the German Stock Corporation Act)

The legal basis for the fulfillment of legal retention obligations is again Article 6 (1) (c) GDPR.

4. Recipients of personal data

Within Porsche AG, the only people who have access are those who need it for the relevant named purposes. We only disclose your personal data to external recipients outside Porsche AG if this is necessary for the implementation, preparation or follow-up of the Annual General Meeting or if another legal permission or obligation exists. External recipients may be:

- Processors: Group companies of Porsche AG or external service providers that we use to provide services, e.g. in the areas of technical infrastructure and maintenance. These processors are carefully selected and regularly checked by us to ensure that the security and confidentiality of your personal data is safeguarded. The service providers may only use the data for the purposes specified by us.
- Public authorities: Authorities and government institutions, such as public prosecutors' offices, courts or tax authorities, to which we must transfer personal data for legally compelling reasons. The data is transferred on the basis of Article 6 (1) (c) GDPR.
- Private parties: Porsche AG group companies, service providers such as banks, notaries and lawyers to whom data is transferred in pursuit of the above purposes.

Apart from that, personal data will only be passed on within the framework of legal regulations. This concerns in particular

- the list of participants, which records the fact of your participation in the Annual General Meeting, stating your name, place of residence, the number of shares held by you, the class of shares and the type of ownership, and which may be inspected during the Annual General Meeting by other shareholders and participants in the Annual General Meeting and by shareholders for two years after the Annual General Meeting has been held (Section 129 (4) of the German Stock Corporation Act)

- the announcement of agenda items and election proposals and counterproposals, naming the contributing shareholder in accordance with the provisions of stock corporation law (sections 122 (2), 126 (1), 127 German Stock Corporation Act)
- the disclosure of your data to other recipients outside the company, e.g. publications of notifications of voting rights in accordance with the provisions of the German Securities Trading Act (Wertpapierhandelsgesetz)

5. Data processing in third countries

If data is transferred to bodies whose headquarter or place of data processing is not located in a member state of the European Union, another state party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area or a state for which an adequate level of data protection has been established by a decision of the European Commission, we will ensure prior to the transfer that the data transfer is either covered by a legal authorization, that guarantees exist for an adequate level of data protection with regard to the data transfer (e.g. by agreement on contractual guarantees or officially recognized regulations or binding internal data protection regulations at the recipient) or that you have given your consent to the data transfer e.g. through the agreement of contractual guarantees, officially recognized regulations or binding internal data protection regulations at the recipient. Where the data transfer is based on Article 46, 47 or 49 (1) second subparagraph GDPR, you may obtain from us a copy of the safeguards for the existence of an adequate level of data protection in relation to the data transfer. Please use the information under point 1 for this purpose.

6. Sources and categories of data for third-party collection

We not only process personal data that we receive directly from you. We may also receive personal data in connection with the holding, preparation and follow-up of the Annual General Meeting via the registration office through the custodian bank (credit institution which the shareholder has commissioned to hold his shares in safe custody). The data is collected in pursuit of the above-mentioned purposes.

7. Automated decision making and profiling

We do not use automated decision-making or profiling to handle general communications.

8. Storage period, deletion

*This document is a non-binding convenience translation of the German original.
In case of any discrepancy between the English and German versions, the German version prevails.*

We store your personal data only as long as this is necessary to fulfill the purposes stated in this document or – in the case of consent – as long as you have not revoked your consent. In the event of an objection to processing, we will delete your personal data unless its further processing is permitted under the relevant legal provisions. We will also delete your personal data if we are obliged to do so for other legal reasons.

Applying these general principles, we will generally delete your personal data immediately

- after the legal basis ceases to apply and provided that no other legal basis (e.g. commercial and tax retention periods) applies. If the latter applies, we delete the data after the other legal basis ceases to apply.
- if they are no longer required for the purposes pursued by us in the preparation and execution of a contract or legitimate interests and no other legal basis (e.g. retention periods under commercial and tax law) applies. If the latter applies, we delete the data after the other legal basis ceases to apply.
- if the purpose of the collection pursued by us ceases to apply and no other legal basis (e.g. retention periods under commercial and tax law) applies. If the latter applies, we delete the data after the other legal basis ceases to apply.

9. Data subject rights

As a data subject, you have numerous rights available to you. In detail:

Right to information: You have the right to receive information about the data we have stored about you.

Right of correction and deletion: You can demand that we correct incorrect data and – insofar as the legal requirements are met – delete your data.

Restriction of processing: You may request us – provided that the legal requirements are met – to restrict the processing of your data.

Data portability: If you have provided us with data on the basis of a contract or consent, you may, if the legal requirements are met, request that you receive the data you have provided in a structured, common and machine-readable format or that we transfer it to another controller.

Objection to data processing on the legal basis of "legitimate interest": You have the right to object to data processing by us at any time for reasons arising from your particular situation, insofar as this is based on the legal basis of "legitimate interest". If you exercise your right to object, we will stop processing your data unless we can prove – in accordance with the legal requirements - compelling reasons worthy of protection for the further processing which outweigh your rights.

Revocation of consent: If you have given us consent to process your data, you can revoke this consent at any time with effect for the future. The lawfulness of the processing of your data until the revocation remains unaffected.

Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority: You can also submit a complaint with the competent supervisory authority if you believe that the processing of your data violates applicable law. To do so, you can contact the supervisory authority responsible for your place of residence or country or the supervisory authority responsible for us.

Contacting us and exercising your rights: Furthermore, you can contact us free of charge if you have any questions about the processing of your personal data, your rights as a data subject and any consent you may have given. To exercise the aforementioned rights against us, please use the online contact form at <https://www.porsche.com/international/privacy/contact/> or contact us by post at the address given above under point 1. In doing so, please ensure that we are able to clearly identify you. When revoking your consent, you can also choose the same contact method that you used when you gave your consent.
