

Aldís Amah Hamilton

Aldís Amah Hamilton is an actress of Icelandic and African-American descent. As a woman of color she has broken many barriers in her home country.

She has been nominated for multiple awards, namely the Icelandic Edda's and the British Bafta's. She is proud of the progress being made to show the diversity of Iceland's population, and considers herself privileged to be an active participant in that movement. She is also an avid animal activist and works hard to educate and inspire people to be kinder to all living beings.
