

ABOUT ZERO HOMES

Short version, 29 words. Zero Homes is a Denver-based home electrification company. Homeowners scan their house with our mobile app, and Zero Homes returns a fully designed, heat pump estimate with rebates included.

Standard boilerplate, 78 words. Zero Homes replaces the in-home sales visit with a phone scan through our mobile app. Homeowners capture their house on their own, Zero Homes' engineers produce a permit-ready system design, estimate, and a pre-vetted local contractor performs the install. The company finds and files every rebate the homeowner qualifies for. Zero Homes installs in Colorado, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Illinois, and California, and raised a $16.8 million Series A led by Prelude Ventures in February 2026. Learn more at www.zerohomes.com.

LEADERSHIP AND MEDIA CONTACT

Grant Gunnison, Founder and CEO. Grant founded Zero Homes after training as an engineer at MIT and building satellite communications hardware at NASA. He grew up around his family's general contracting business, which is where the company's central conviction comes from: the problem with home upgrades isn't the equipment, it's everything that happens before the equipment shows up. He was named to NREL's inaugural West Gate cohort in 2022.
