Permits EAST ARNHEM

All of East Arnhem Land is Aboriginal land, which means it is private land but Traditional Owners welcome visitors to travel the region. In most circumstances a permit is required to travel by road through Aboriginal land, to enter or visit an Aboriginal community or homeland, and to visit camping and recreational areas in East Arnhem Land.

The Northern Land Council manages transit permits for driving the Central Arnhem Road - www.permits.nlc.org.au

Visitor permits and campground bookings for recreational areas on the Gove Peninsula are managed by Dhimurru Aboriginal Corporation - www.dhimurru.com.au/permits-information
