Pivot from everyday management into purposeful leadership. Develop the judgement and confidence to guide teams through complexity and turn policy into practice with purpose. This program helps middle and operational managers step beyond managing tasks to leading people – building the confidence and capability to guide high-performing teams in complex settings.

Learning Outcomes

Build confidence

Develop practical people-management and communication skills you can use immediately – helping you guide conversations, decisions and teams with confidence.

Learn through reflection

Grow your self-awareness through honest discussions and feedback. Learn from real examples that help you become a more thoughtful, adaptable leader.

Lead with understanding

Draw on First Nations and Māori perspectives to lead with cultural awareness, deeper insight and respect for diverse viewpoints.

Use new technology

Explore how AI is reshaping leadership. Learn to question outputs by applying critical thinking in real-world contexts.

Personal wellbeing

Find the tools to lead through challenges while maintaining perspective and performance when the pressure is on.
