

ANZSOG Academic Fellows Program

Expression of Interest — 2027 Round

Call for Applications

This form should be used to apply for an ANZSOG Academic Fellowship in the 2027 round. Please read the Fellowship Information Guide before completing this form. The fellowship involves structured engagement with practitioner audiences across a 12-month period rather than a continuous residency.

Fields marked with * are mandatory. Submit your completed form, CV and supervisor endorsement as a single PDF to insights@anzsog.edu.au by the due date (31 August 2026).

Where in-person participation is required, ANZSOG works with Fellows to support travel associated with agreed fellowship activities. Are there particular periods in 2027 when you would be available (or unavailable) for in-person engagement in Melbourne or Sydney?

2 Fellowship Focus & Engagement

Across the 12-month period, fellowship participation is scheduled at several points during the year based on agreed fellowship activities. What public governance challenge or area of focus will your fellowship explore through engagement with practitioner audiences? (300–400 words)*

In your response, please briefly describe:

- the expertise and research findings you want to utilise to achieve impact during your fellowship
- why this area is important now for public sector practice
- how engagement with practitioners could help shape or inform your work

Fellows contribute through a structured engagement framework that may include contributions such as guest and public lectures, panel presentations, participation in ANZSOG-led dialogue events, and practitioner engagement activities. Which engagement formats do you see as most impactful for your work, and how would they contribute to practitioner outcomes? (150–200 words)

(e.g. public lectures, guest lectures, executive teaching, practitioner roundtables, workshops, policy conversations)

3 Knowledge Exchange

During the fellowship, ANZSOG works with Fellows to identify opportunities to bring their expertise into conversation with practitioner audiences. These may include roundtables, workshops or other dialogue formats depending on the Fellow's area of focus and the needs of ANZSOG's partner networks.

This section helps us understand whether you already have ideas for engagement formats that could support this work.

Do you have ideas for a practitioner dialogue, roundtable, workshop or similar engagement activity that could be explored during the fellowship? *

☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please provide a short outline below. This is intended to help ANZSOG understand possible engagement opportunities should your application be successful.

Briefly describe the topic and focus of your proposed event

Who is the practitioner audience you have in mind?

What would you need from ANZSOG to make it happen?
