

Step into leadership with confidence

Ideal for:
Public Sector Professionals in Regulation

Duration
2 x 3.5-hour sessions over 2 days

Dates
29 - 30 July 2026

Format
Online

Cost
Early Bird $2,400 (inc GST)
Full price $2,800 (inc GST)

The program examines how regulators can better understand risk, define success, and design regulatory strategies that are proportionate, effective and fit for purpose. Combining expert input with practical examples and interactive discussion, enabling participants to reflect on emerging trends across the regulatory landscape and identify opportunities to refine their own agency's approach.

What you'll learn

- » Understand the principles underpinning risk-based regulation, enforcement and other risk-control approaches.
- » Analyse different classes of regulatory risk and align them with appropriate structures, strategies and tactics.
- » Define and assess regulatory success using measures that reflect outcomes, not just activity.
- » Apply contemporary regulatory thinking to reflect on and refine your agency's current approach.

Key benefits

Risk-based regulation

Develop a clearer understanding of risk-based approaches across regulation, enforcement and other risk-control settings.

Regulatory strategy

Strengthen strategic decision-making by matching different classes of risk with appropriate regulatory responses.

Defining success

Clarify how success can be defined and measured in a risk-control environment beyond activity or output metrics.

Implementation challenges

Anticipate and navigate common challenges in adopting and embedding risk-based practice within agencies.

