Elise Boers

Meet Elise Boers! She is a Dutch content creator and entrepreneur who is active on Instagram, TikTok, YouTube, and podcasts. She often offers personal insights into her daily life, motherhood, and the balance between work and family. Elise values honesty and openness, which is clearly reflected in her content and her brand DIEP'R. By showing both the beautiful and the challenging sides of life, she creates a strong sense of trust and relatability among her audience.

She actively engages with her followers by creating an open dialogue within her community. In addition, she frequently shares her views on parenting, including how she raises her children, the traditions they cherish as a family, and the rules and values she finds important. Whether she's sharing everyday moments, reflecting on personal growth, or having open conversations in her podcast, Elise has a natural way of making people feel understood and less alone through her content.
