Build Your Startup While You Study

Why wait to launch your business idea? At Hult, you don't have to. The Bachelor of Entrepreneurship is for those ready to think differently, take risks, and start building from day one. Taught in the heart of Dubai's startup scene, this is a global launchpad where entrepreneurial mindset meets core human skills—so you're equipped not just to build a business, but to shape the future.

Build a business from day one

Every term is hands-on, revolving around the real-world challenges faced by entrepreneurs. You'll learn about every aspect of starting and running your own business from people who have built businesses themselves, with guest lectures, coaching, workshops, and feedback sessions delivered by those who've lived the entrepreneurial journey.
