

INSPIRATION GUIDE

MOROCCAN BEJMAT

Bejmat Gris Rose

MADE WITH LOVE

The Bejmat comes from Fez, the tile city in Morocco. Each tile is authentically formed from clay, dried in the sun, glazed by hand, baked in an olive-kernel oven and cut to the right shape.

A labour-intensive job, which can only be done by the real craftsman. As there are 90 tiles in 1 m2 you can imagine that this process takes a while.

GLAZUUR

GLAZE

HANDMADE AND FULL OF CHARACTER

The olive pit oven creates different colour shades in the Bejmat. The closer the fire, the darker the glaze colours. This results in different colour shades in one batch, which makes the Bejmat so characteristic. Also, no Bejmat is the same size, the handmade element makes each tile unique!

Bejmat Vert Foncee

SUITABLE FOR THE FLOOR AND WALL

The Bejmat, translated "little brick", is the tile preferred for the floor. Known in Morocco, where streets are filled with the herringbone pattern. Usually coloured with the popular green colour.
