Corda AI Space

Where AI takes shape in the real world

Meet Corda AI Space

A physical home for companies, people and ideas moving AI forward.

Corda AI Space is a physical meeting place and active AI community at Corda Campus. It brings companies, AI builders, experts and partners together to share knowledge, make new connections and create new collaborations.

Whether you are exploring AI for the first time or already building with it, Corda AI Space helps you take the next step.

Based at Corda Campus in Hasselt, Corda AI Space is an LRM initiative, built within an established business ecosystem.

Raf Degens
CEO Corda Campus

"Corda AI Space brings the right people together to turn AI into real opportunities."

What happens at Corda AI Space

Who it's for

Different companies come to Corda AI Space for different reasons. What connects them is the opportunity to learn, connect and move forward.

AI Explorers

You want to understand what AI can do for your business.

AI Builders

You are building with AI and want to keep moving forward.

Partners

You bring expertise, technology, knowledge or reach to the ecosystem.

What's in it for you

AI Explorers

- Learn from real business cases.
- Meet experts who can answer your questions.
- Find the right next step for your organisation.

You don't need to have all the answers yet. We help you find what's relevant and who can help.

AI Builders

- Meet potential clients, peers and experts.
- Share knowledge and get valuable feedback.
- Find new collaborations and business opportunities.

Keep moving forward with people who can challenge your ideas, share knowledge and open new doors.

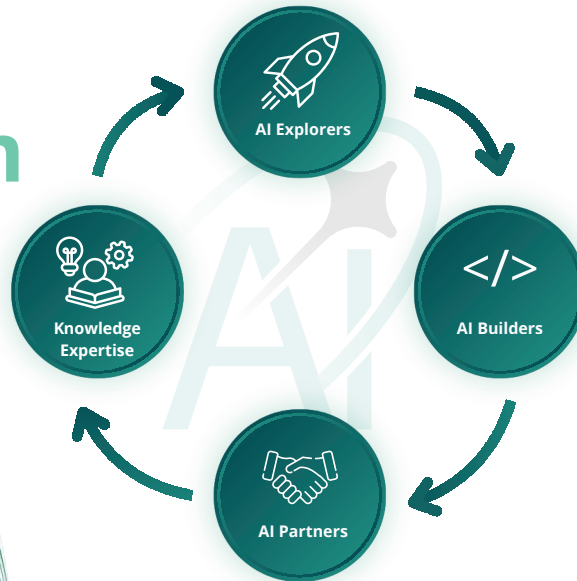

AI Partners

- Connect with people that can use your expertise.
- Share your knowledge and technology with the market.
- Build relationships that can lead to new collaborations.

Bring your expertise into the community and connect with companies where it can make a real difference.

The ecosystem

When companies with real questions, AI builders with practical experience and partners with specialised knowledge come together, expertise becomes easier to access and more relevant to real business needs.

Corda AI Space creates the setting where that knowledge can be shared, challenged and turned into practical next steps.

Together, these different perspectives create new connections, collaborations and opportunities.

AI becomes more useful when the right people come together.
