DELTAQUAD

Customer notice: End of Sale and End of Support for DeltaQuad Pro

Announcement date: 6 November 2026

DeltaQuad is dedicated to continuous innovation and to providing our customers with reliable operational capabilities. To achieve this, we are focusing our resources on our flagship DeltaQuad Evo platform and have decided to discontinue the DeltaQuad Pro. In addition, the limited availability of components, special tools and calibration tables no longer allows us to continue repairing and maintaining the DeltaQuad Pro. As a result, the DeltaQuad Pro reached End of Sale and End of Support on 20 October 2026.

What this means for you

You may continue to use your DeltaQuad Pro. However, as of 20 October 2026, DeltaQuad no longer provides:

- Repairs and maintenance
- Spare parts
- Software or firmware updates
- Technical support

If you have any questions about this notice or an existing repair request, please contact our support team at support@deltaquad.com.

We understand that this change may be disruptive, and we sincerely appreciate your understanding and continued partnership.
