Customer Story

As a dual-listed company, our reporting process demands speed, accuracy and consistency across multiple corporate reports. As reporting became more complex, we found ourselves repeating the same work—reviewing PDFs, reconciling mark-ups and managing multiple document versions under increasingly tight deadlines.

We wanted a better way to collaborate. By implementing Tangelo, we created one connected reporting process that reduced manual work, simplified reviews and helped both Finance and Marketing work together more efficiently.

Results at a Glance

- Record-breaking interim reporting turnaround
 - Interim Report delivered two weeks earlier than ever before
 - One shared platform for Finance and Marketing
 - Significant reduction in manual review cycles
 - Automatic Excel-linked financial data
 - Earlier Board reviews with professionally formatted reports
 - Less effort across the entire reporting process

Customer Q&A

Abigail Butchart
Group Reporting Manager
Vista Group

What reporting challenges were you trying to solve?

As our reporting process evolved, we realised we were spending too much time repeating the same tasks. Every round of review created more mark-ups, more document versions and more manual comparisons, making reporting far more time-consuming than it needed to be.

Why did you choose Tangelo?

We were introduced to Tangelo through colleagues who had already used the platform successfully. From the first demonstration, it was clear the platform addressed exactly the challenges we were facing.

How was the implementation?

We started with our Interim Report, and the implementation was remarkably straightforward. The platform worked with our existing files, required very little change to our internal process and allowed us to make many updates ourselves.

Customer Q&A

How has Tangelo changed the way your teams work?

The impact was immediate. Our first report produced in Tangelo became our fastest Interim Report ever.

Having one place for reviews and updates transformed the way we worked. Instead of comparing multiple PDFs and waiting for design changes, we could make updates directly in the report while knowing our financial data remained accurate throughout.

What impact has Tangelo had on your wider reporting process?

The improvements haven't just benefited Finance. Marketing can focus on the creative elements of the report while Finance retains ownership of financial content, creating a much more efficient workflow for both teams.

The Board also benefits from reviewing professionally formatted reports much earlier in the reporting cycle.

What comes next?

Following the success of the Interim Report, we're now using Tangelo for our Annual Report and Climate Report. As our reporting requirements continue to grow, we're looking forward to finding even more ways to streamline and improve the process.
