EXPERIENCE

As a lawyer with many years of court experience and a particular focus on banking and finance, I advise and represent national and international clients both in and out of court and before authorities. My work in the judiciary has given me an in-depth understanding of procedural processes and the efficient assessment of complex legal issues. My working style is characterized by a structured, goal-oriented approach and great flexibility, as well as empathy in dealing with different perspectives. In my work with clients, I attach great importance to a trusting exchange with the aim of developing viable and sustainable solutions.
