EXPERIENCE

I specialize in banking and financial market law (including FinTech), internal and regulatory investigations, and white-collar crime. Since many years, I advise companies, financial institutions, and private individuals on regulatory issues and complex compliance matters, including money laundering, corruption, sanctions, whistleblowing, and ESG issues. In addition, I focus on licensing and enforcement proceedings and criminal and regulatory investigations by domestic and foreign authorities. Thanks to my in-house experience at a major bank and at the Swiss regulator FINMA, I am very familiar with the challenges and opportunities of the dynamic financial services industry and advise my clients in a practical and hands on manner.
