EXPERIENCE

I support companies and entrepreneurs with legal precision and a strong understanding of economic interrelations. I carefully analyze complex legal issues and develop sound, tailor-made solutions – always with a view to both the essentials and the bigger picture. My advice is grounded in many years of practical experience, which I continuously deepen through executive roles in corporations and foundations. It is particularly important to me to truly understand my clients' concerns. I am committed to representing their interests – both in advisory matters and, when necessary, before the courts.
