EXPERIENCE

For almost 20 years, I have been practicing tax law and administrative law in both a national and cross-border contexts. I advise individuals, entrepreneurs and companies and frequently conduct litigation before all instances. My tax advisory services for individuals focus on tax law support in complex family law situations, succession and estate planning, including the execution of wills, and criminal tax law. Many years of experience in the judiciary have ensured a thorough understanding of current court and administrative practice and keep me constantly aware of the latest developments. I adopt the right tone in court and with the authorities to achieve the best outcome for you and your case. I provide solution-oriented advice and support, always with your individual needs in mind.
