

WeKomply Strengthens Position in Nordic Software Compliance Market Through Argus Acquisition

Larvik, Norway – August 21, 2026 - WeKomply, a leading Northern European provider of compliance, risk and quality management software solutions and a portfolio company of VIA equity, today announced the acquisition of Argus AS, a Norwegian provider of software, document bases and expert consultancy services supporting companies with ISO certifications and regulatory compliance.

The acquisition further strengthens WeKomply's position in the Norwegian market for HSE, quality and compliance software. Argus will become part of WeKomply, with its customers gradually transitioning to PlusOffice, WeKomply's Norwegian HSE, quality and HR software platform. WeKomply acquires 100% of the shares in Argus, and the Argus team joins the WeKomply Group.

Argus has served Norwegian companies for close to three decades, building a portfolio of document bases and handbooks addressing documentation requirements under the Working Environment Act, the Pollution Control Act and the Planning and Building Act, as well as the ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and ISO 45001 standards. In addition, Argus provides expert assistance with central approval, certification processes and inspections by Norwegian authorities.

Going forward, Argus customers will retain the contact person, consultant and level of service they are accustomed to. In addition, Argus customers will get access to the PlusOffice software platform and further functionality through the full WeKomply product suite.

"We are excited to welcome Argus, its customers and its highly experienced team to WeKomply. Argus has helped an impressive base of Norwegian companies manage HSE, quality and compliance requirements for decades. By combining that expertise and customer proximity with the PlusOffice platform, we can offer customers a stronger and more comprehensive solution while preserving the trusted relationships and service they value today." – John Strandmyr, Managing Director PlusOffice, WeKomply.

"We are very pleased that Argus is now becoming part of WeKomply. For us, it has been important to find a new owner that can further develop what we have built over many years. We look forward to seeing our customers benefit from better and more comprehensive solutions, while continuing to work with the same people and maintaining the close relationships they have always had with Argus." – Arild Gustavsen/Guri Haugerud Willums, Argus.

Argus customers can expect continued excellence in service delivery, supported by a stronger and more comprehensive software platform. As part of WeKomply, they will also benefit from the Group's broader operational and technological resources and access to an expanding portfolio of compliance software solutions.
