

WeKomply partners with Lexerta to strengthen its HSE compliance offering and expand into the Benelux

Copenhagen – July 3, 2026 – WeKomply, a leading Northern European provider of compliance, quality management and risk management software solutions and a portfolio company of VIA equity, has completed the acquisition of Lexerta, a leading provider of Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) compliance software and advisory services in the Benelux.

The acquisition marks another important step in WeKomply's strategy of building the leading Northern European software platform for governance, risk, compliance and quality management. By combining category-leading software businesses with deep domain expertise, WeKomply enables organisations to navigate increasingly complex regulatory environments while improving operational efficiency.

Founded in 1993, Lexerta has built the leading HSE compliance platform in the Benelux. Through its flagship platform, Pharius, Lexerta combines continuously updated regulatory intelligence with operational workflows and expert advisory, enabling organisations to translate legal requirements into practical, day-to-day compliance activities. The platform provides integrated risk management, audit management, compliance dashboards and reporting capabilities that help organisations maintain real-time oversight and demonstrate compliance with confidence.

Over more than three decades, Lexerta has established a leading position in its market, serving more than 650 organisations and over 6,600 users across the Netherlands, Belgium and France. Approximately 40 employees support customers from offices in the Netherlands (Deventer and Gorinchem) and Belgium (Mechelen).

"Lexerta has built the strongest HSE compliance platform in the Benelux by combining outstanding software with deep regulatory expertise," says Peter Thorlund Haahr, Board Member of WeKomply and Partner at VIA equity. "The company is an excellent strategic fit with WeKomply. It expands both our product offering and our geographic footprint, while adding highly specialised knowledge that strengthens the value we deliver to customers across the Group. We are delighted to welcome the Lexerta team and look forward to supporting the company's continued growth."

"For more than 30 years, our mission has been to help organisations navigate increasingly complex HSE regulations with confidence," says Joost Baak, CEO of Lexerta. "Joining WeKomply gives us a long-term partner that shares our vision of combining software with deep domain expertise. Together, we will continue investing in our platform, accelerate innovation and create even greater value for our customers. Becoming part of the WeKomply Group also gives us the scale and resources to realise our ambition of expanding further across Europe together with our customers and partners. At the same time, our customers will continue working with the same trusted team, platform and service they know today."

Lexerta will continue operating under its established brand with the same management team and customer-focused approach. The existing management team will also continue as shareholders, underscoring their long-term commitment to the business and confidence in the shared future with WeKomply. Customers will continue working with the same people and platform while benefiting over time from increased investment in product development, technology and commercial capabilities as part of the broader WeKomply Group.
