We are delighted to invite you to a new seminar with Prof. Dr. med Harald Stossier, DIBAK, head physician of the VIVAMAYR clinic in Austria, to be held at the new office of VIVAMAYR London, 15 Harley Street

Seminar topics to be covered:

Micro- and macronutrients are foundation of our living conditions. Thereby it is suggested that all these nutrients can be supplied by a healthy nutrition – whatever that means. Nevertheless we have to notice, that Orthomolecular Medicine gets increasingly important for prevention as well as treatment of different diseases.

This seminar will give you on one hand an introduction in the possibilities of Orthomolecular Medicine as well as an update of newest knowledge and physiological fundament.

What makes sense, which substance for which condition, how to manage nutrition to support orthomolecular medicine, normal and therapeutically ranges, laboratory test etc will be presented with practical orientation.

Nevertheless medicine is also art of healing and an individualized strategy becomes more and more important. Therefore, Orthomolecular Medicine ideally will be combined with a simple method for biological testing like Functional Myodiagnosics, which will be demonstrated practically.
