

DISABILITY AWARENESS

to be like me

BOOKS/LITERATURE

Summary: Justice Sonia Sotomayor introduces young readers to a variety of disabilities in Just Ask. Comparing our differences to a garden, Justice Sotomayor emphasizes the fact that our differences make life more interesting.

Listen to the story

Link to Publisher

Summary: Kristine Napper tells readers about life as a wheelchair user. Through her first-hand experiences and stories, Napper helps readers realize that having a disability is just a "normal part of the human experience."

Link to Publisher

EMPATHY

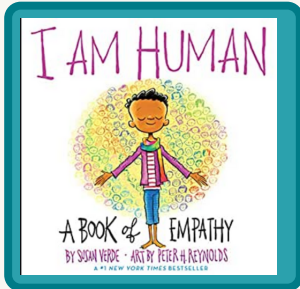

to be like me

BOOKS/LITERATURE

Summary: What is the difference between sympathy and empathy? How do we show empathy? The Kids Book About Empathy explains these terms in a way that is easy for kids to understand and put into action.

Link to Publisher

Summary: I Am Human teaches empathy by emphasizing our human connections and similarities. We all can show others empathy through our everyday actions such as caring and sharing.

Link to Publisher

Watch on Epic

Summary: Author Mem Fox takes readers on a tour of the world illustrating how all people are the same and share similar life experiences. It is easier to empathize with someone, even if we've never met them or live in a different culture, if we know that we have similarities.

Link to Publisher \(and listen to this book\)