

Product recall

For reasons of preventive consumer protection, Interquell GmbH is recalling consumer protection, Interquell GmbH is recalling the following animal feed:

Happy Cat VET Renal 1 kg

Lot number: 2508020120P08; best before 02.08.2025

Only the above-mentioned lot number / best before date is affected by the recall.

Reason for recall:

During a self-inspection, it was found that a small number of salmonella was detected in a sample of the above-mentioned product with the same lot number. Salmonella was detected in small numbers in a sample of the same lot number. This could potentially cause a gastrointestinal illness. As a precaution, customers who have the above-mentioned product at home should no longer feed it. For reasons of consistent consumer we have reacted immediately and withdrawn the affected products from sale.

Packs with the mentioned lot number / best before date can be returned to the respective stores. The lot number / best before date is printed on the packaging. The purchase price for the product will of course be refunded. Other lot numbers / best before dates or other products are not affected by the recall.

All necessary measures have already been taken to avoid such an incident in the future. Interquell GmbH regrets the incident and apologizes for any inconvenience caused.