

ABOUT

Andy Cave (PhD) is a world-leading mountaineer, pioneering new routes in remote mountain ranges. To succeed, his teams rely not only on skill but also on mindset, collaboration, and leadership.

Thousands of people have been inspired by Andy's journey of an ordinary boy growing up to achieve extra-ordinary things. From his beginnings in a Yorkshire coal-mine to scaling the world's most difficult and dangerous mountains, he has a wealth of insights to share with you.

If you want to delve deeper, Andy delivers the following:

Keynote presentations about overcoming adversity, and creating a culture of excellence.

Interactive workshops full of energy designed for your team around your specific goals.

Coaching with senior executives to fulfill their own potential and that of the people they lead.
